INTRODUCTION

- Name of Fellow: Kwashie Godswill Kweku Sedoe
- Current Programme: MPhil. Agroforestry, KNUST
- Previous Programme: BSc. Natural Resource Management, KNUST
- Research Interest: Climate change, Cocoa drought resilience and AMF
- Aspiration: To be a Cocoa researcher.

MEMORABILIA

Became a fellow of the African Graduate Mentorship and Coaching Programme in December, 2021.

Mentor: Ismail O. Azeez (Ph.D.), Department of Social and Environmental Forestry, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. He specializes in Forestry Extension, Rural Learning and Land Use.

I interacted with him mostly through E-mails.

Lessons and Training:

- Science policy publication
- Journal Publication
- Data Analysis
- Marriage and work-life balance
- Content writing tools

Interactions: I had interactions with Dr Olawale Emmanuel Olayide, Cindy Gyeniaw (Ms) and Eunice Nimo (Ms) as well as some Alumnus of AGMCP.

ACCOMPLISHMENT

- Completion of academic thesis and graduation.
- Completed an online course on Science Communication for media organized by the Conversation Africa and also Introduction to Forest and Landscape restoration by FAO E-Learning Academy.
- Poster presentation at an International conference for Building Stronger Universities (BSU III), Theme - Climate Change Resilience, Adaptation & Sustainability for Rural Transformation. Poster Title: “Role of Potassium and Arbuscular Mycorrhizal Fungi (AMF) in enhancing drought – resilience growth characteristics of cocoa seedling under nursery and field condition.

CHALLENGES

- The major challenge I faced during the fellowship was attending monthly meetings.

This was partly due to time constraint as most meetings clashed with my field data collection activities and partly to network connectivity issues, which can be adduced to my location.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

- Firstly, I would say Thank you to the management of AGMCP for organising such a program.
- Secondly, to my mentor for been readily available whenever I called on him. I am much grateful for the exposure and the established connections through the Program.
- I am glad to have been a part of AGMCP Cohort 3.
